Dear Friends:

Welcome to the Fort Wayne Philharmonic. My colleagues and I are thrilled to offer a Season that features treasured favourites performed by the musicians you love the most – the valued community of artists known collectively as the Fort Wayne Philharmonic. You'll note that I have asked a significant number of our Orchestra members to step forward as soloists this Season, certainly a fitting way to celebrate the gift of live music in our lives.

You are sure to enjoy the most amazing array of masterpieces featuring our very own local star performers, including principal flute Luke Fitzpatrick, violinists Violetta Todorova, Yana Bourkova-Morunov, Tim Tan, and Betsy Gephart, as well as principal cello Andre Gaskins, principal tuba Chance Trottman-Huiet, and percussionists Alison Chorn and Eric Schweikert. Adding to the roster are old and new friends such as pianists Orion Weiss and Richard Goode, guest conductor Maximiano Valdés, and long-time collaborators, Fort Wayne Ballet, in a special Masterworks Series production of excerpts from Romeo and Juliet.

The remainder of the 2021-2022 Season contains some of the most cherished and revered concert events the Philharmonic traditionally presents each year. Pops, Family, and education concerts, in school performances, specials, and community engagement events epitomize the institution's ongoing massive reach and importance to generations of Hoosier citizens.

More than anything, I want to relay my thanks to you for supporting the Philharmonic, this vital community treasure, especially these last few years. Your ongoing generosity, spirit of collaboration, and concern for the music and the musicians have been so appreciated by all of us. We cannot thank you enough for keeping the Orchestra sound so this Season could become something quite special.

And now, on to the music.

Sincerely,

Andrew Constantine, Music Director

ANDREW CONSTANTINE, MUSIC DIRECTOR

Ione Breeden Auer Podium

Born in the north-east of England, Andrew Constantine began his musical studies on the cello. Despite a seemingly overwhelming desire to play football (soccer) he eventually developed a passion for the instrument and classical music in general. Furthering his playing at Wells Cathedral School he also got his first sight and experience of a professional conductor; "for some reason, the wonderful Meredith Davies had decided to teach in a, albeit rather special, high school for a time. Even we callow youths realized this was worth paying attention to!" After briefly attending the Royal Northern College of Music in Manchester, a change of direction took him to the University of Leicester where he studied music, art history and politics. A chance discovery at an early age of a book about the great conductor John Barbirolli in his local library had instilled in him yet another passion – conducting. Later, as he began to establish his career, the conductor's widow Evelyn Barbirolli, herself a leading musician, would become a close friend and staunch advocate of his work.

His first studies were with John Carewe and Norman Del Mar in London and later with Leonard Bernstein at the Schleswig-Holstein Music Festival in Germany. At the same time, he founded the Bardi Orchestra in Leicester. With this ensemble he performed throughout Europe and the UK and had his first taste and experience of conducting an enormous range of the orchestral repertoire.

A British Council scholarship took Constantine to the Leningrad State Conservatory in 1991 where he studied with the legendary pedagogue Ilya Musin. He cites Musin as being the strongest influence on his conducting, both technically and philosophically. "Essentially he taught how to influence sound by first creating the image in your head and then transferring it into your hands. And, that extracting your own ego from the situation as much as possible is the only true way of serving the music. He was also one of the most humble and dedicated human beings I have ever met". In turn, Musin described Andrew Constantine as, "A brilliant representative of the conducting art".

Earlier in 1991 Constantine won first prize in the Donatella Flick-Accademia Italiana Conducting Competition. This led to a series of engagements and further study at the Accademia Chigiana in Siena and a year working as assistant conductor for the late Giuseppe Sinopoli. His Royal Festival Hall debut in 1992 with the London Philharmonic was met with unanimous critical acclaim and praise. The Financial Times wrote: "Definiteness of intention is a great thing, and Constantine's shaping of the music was never short of it." The Independent wrote: "Andrew Constantine showed a capacity Royal Festival Hall audience just what he is made of, ending his big, demanding program with an electrifying performance of Prokofiev's Symphony No. 5."

Described by the UK's largest classical radio station, Classic FM, as "a Rising Star of Classical Music," Andrew Constantine has worked throughout the UK and Europe with many leading orchestras including, The Philharmonia, Royal Philharmonic, London Symphony Orchestra, St. Petersburg Philharmonic and Danish Radio Orchestra. He was awarded an Honorary Degree of Doctor of Music by the University of Leicester for his "contribution to music."

Constantine's repertoire is incredibly broad and, while embracing the standard classics, spans symphonic works from Antheil and Bliss to Nielsen and Mahler. His affinity for both English and Russian music has won him wide acclaim, particularly his performances of the works of Elgar and Vaughan Williams. His "Made in America" series in 2013/14 at the Fort Wayne Philharmonic included works by eight US composers, four of whom are still living, and one world premiere.

In 2004, he was awarded a highly prestigious British NESTA Fellowship to further develop his international career. This was also a recognition of Constantine's commitment to the breaking down of barriers that blur the perceptions of classical music and to bringing a refreshed approach to the concert-going experience. This is a commitment that he has carried throughout his work and which continues with his advocacy for music education for all ages. "Taste is malleable; we only have to look at sport to see the most relevant analogy. It's pretty rudimentary and not rocket science by any stretch of the imagination. The sooner you are shown the beauties of something, whether it be football or Mozart, the greater is the likelihood that you'll develop a respect or even a passion for it. It complements our general education and is vital if we want to live well-rounded lives. As performing musicians our responsibility is to not shirk the challenge, but keep the flame of belief alive and to be a resource and supporter of all music educators." Another project created by Constantine geared towards the 'contextualizing' of composers' lives is The Composer: REVEALED. In these programs the work of well-known composers is brought to life through the combination of dramatic interludes acted out between segments of chamber, instrumental and orchestral music, culminating with a complete performance of a major orchestral work. The year 2015 saw the debut of Tchaikovsky: REVEALED.

In 2004, Andrew Constantine was invited by the great Russian maestro Yuri Temirkanov to become Assistant Conductor of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. Within a year he became Associate Conductor and has enjoyed a wonderful working relationship with the orchestra since that time. As Temirkanov has said, "He's the real thing. A serious conductor!" In 2007 he accepted the position of Music Director of the Reading Symphony Orchestra in Pennsylvania – after the RSO considered over 300 candidates - and helped the orchestra celebrate its 100th Anniversary as they continue to perform to capacity audiences. In addition, in 2009 he was chosen as the Music Director of the Fort Wayne Philharmonic from a field of more than 250 candidates.

He has worked with the Buffalo Philharmonic, Rochester Philharmonic, Syracuse Symphony, Jacksonville Symphony, Chautauqua Festival Orchestra and Phoenix Symphony, among others. Again, critical acclaim has been hugely positive, the press review of his Phoenix debut describing it as "the best concert in the last ten years."

CALEB YOUNG, GUEST CONDUCTOR FOR ENGAGEMENT

Known for his outstanding interpretations of American music, Berlin-based conductor Caleb Young has gained international renown as one of the most exciting emerging American artists of today.

Mentored by legendary Finnish conductor Jukka-Pekka Saraste, Young connects his rigorous training in the European classical tradition with a passion for the viscerality of American music, resulting in daring and fresh renditions of both. He commands a breadth of repertoire, able to tap into the full spectrum of American composers. Indeed, under Young's baton, the works of Copland, Bernstein, Jennifer Higdon, and Jessie Montgomery receive artistic treatment equal to those of Mozart, Beethoven, Haydn, Mahler, Stravinsky, and Shostakovich.

Young debuted with the Van Cliburn Competition as its Cover Conductor in 2018, beginning a relationship that continues with a scheduled 2022 return to the storied piano competition in the same role. He has directed a number of the world's premier orchestras, including the Oregon Symphony, Russian National Orchestra, Finnish Chamber Orchestra, Toledo Symphony, Columbus Symphony, and the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra. As cover conductor, he recently served John Williams and the Los Angeles Philharmonic, and has worked with the Detroit Symphony, Cincinnati Symphony, St. Louis Symphony, Atlanta Opera, and the National Music Festival.

Several of Europe's hallowed institutions have recognized Young's sensitivity, dynamism, and exemplary technique. In summer 2021, Finland's Fiskar Summer Festival named Young part of "the next generation of leaders in classical music", awarding him mentorship under legendary conductors Jukka-Pekka Saraste, Esa-Pekka

Salonen, Hannu Lintu, Sakari Oramo and others at the LEAD! Foundation Academy's conductors' masterclass. To close the Festival, Young was further awarded the honor of conducting the Finnish Chamber Orchestra alongside Saraste and Salonen, a performance which received glowing reviews. Previously, he was awarded the 2016 Ansbacher Fellowship for Young Conductors Prize, given by the Salzburg Festival and members of the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra.

In addition to Europe, Young's engagements frequently take him to the United States, where the 2021-2022 season will see him newly appointed as Guest Conductor for Engagement for the Fort Wayne Philharmonic. The appointment enables him to build upon his recent award-winning five year tenure as the Philharmonic's Associate Conductor, a formidable legacy that includes more than 200 performances conducted as well as founding the "Music and Mixology" series which continues to engage young professionals with orchestral music. In 2018, he earned an Emerging Artist Award, an honour bestowed to the region's "arts and cultural leaders" by Arts United of Greater Fort Wayne—one of the oldest nonprofit artistic funding initiatives in the United States..

TROY WEBDELL,
DIRECTOR OF YOUTH ORCHESTRAS

Troy Webdell was selected to become the Director of Youth Orchestras for the Fort Wayne Philharmonic in 2018. Under his leadership, the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Youth Orchestras have become the premiere orchestral experience for young musicians in Northern Indiana. The Youth Orchestras have been featured on PBS television in the USA and streamed online from China through an international cloud concert that has earned over 3 million views worldwide. Additionally, the Youth Symphony Orchestra's 2021 performance recording of music from Zorba the Greek has been selected to be included in the official Mikis Theodorakis Archive Museum in Athens, Greece. In June 2022, the Youth Symphony Orchestra will embark on a New York City performance tour and perform on the Isaac Stern Auditorium / Ronald O. Perelman Stage at Carnegie Hall.

Webdell is also the founder, music director, and conductor of South Shore Orchestra, a regional professional orchestra located in Valparaiso, Indiana. The South Shore Orchestra has performed numerous concerts throughout the USA and China featuring national and international guest artists. Webdell's interest in world music and culture has taken him on multiple orchestral concert tours throughout China to conduct in renown concert halls in over 40 major cities including Beijing, Hangzhou, Shanghai, Nanjing, Yangzhou, Ningbo, Jiaying, Shaoxing, Quanzhou, Fuzhou, Cixi, and Zhengzhou, where his interpretations of the Chinese classical music repertoire have been received with critical acclaim. His orchestral concerts have been nationally televised and broadcast on CCTV throughout China and the USA. In 2013, Webdell conducted the world premiere and 26 performances of Max Lee's modern interpretation of the Chinese classic opera Romance of the Western Chamber which was completely sung and spoken in Mandarin Chinese. In 2015, Webdell and the SSO performed a sold-out celebration concert in Chicago's Symphony Center for the 70th anniversary of the end of World War II. The concert featured a 600 member Chinese chorus and SSO performing Xian Xinghai's Yellow River Cantata, the American premiere of Roxanna Panufnik's Since We Parted, and was broadcast internationally via radio from Chicago to China. In January 2018, Webdell was invited to conduct the inaugural concert at the opening of the new Ulanhot Grand Theatre in Ulanhot, Inner Mongolia which also featured the world premiere of Xiao He's Long Song.

As an award-winning conductor, Webdell has earned acclaim for his orchestral conducting in the USA and China, receiving outstanding musical/orchestral direction awards for staged and concert productions of Stephen Sondheim's Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber of Fleet Street (2001 & 2004), Jason Robert Brown's PARADE (2005), and Mitch Leigh's Man of La Mancha (2006). In 2015, Webdell was awarded the "Global Harmony Through Music" award from the Confucius Institute (Beijing) for his work and dedication to create cultural understanding and acceptance through music.

Webdell has been a music educator for over 30 years and a collaborator in developing El Sistema based youth orchestras in the USA, interactive educational symphony concerts, and community "Unity Event" concerts featuring over 500 community chorus and orchestra musicians. As a conducting clinician and guest speaker, Webdell has presented clinics at the International Music and Confucianism Symposium and at the Indiana Music Educators Association Festivals and State Conventions including an instrumental conducting clinic entitled "Conducting Musicians Expressively," and a music composition clinic entitled "Composing Kids!" In 2017, Webdell was named the Honorary Director of Orchestral Programs for the Nanjing Qinxing Arts Academy in Nanjing which has recently become one of the largest music academies in China.
